About the ITI

The ITI's mission is "to promote and disseminate knowledge on all aspects of implant dentistry and related tissue regeneration through research, development and education to the benefit of the patient."

The International Team for Implantology (ITI) is a unique network that unites professionals around the world from every field of implant dentistry and related tissue regeneration. As an independent academic association, it actively promotes networking and exchange among its membership.

» Organization

The organizational structure of the ITI and its Board of Directors.

» ITI Association

The ITI is a worldwide Association of professionals in implant dentistry. The objectives of the ITI are the promotion and dissemination of knowledge about implant dentistry and related fields.

» ITI Foundation

The ITI is a non-profit organization of dedicated scientists and practitioners who champion the correct utilization of implant dentistry for the benefit of the patient.

» ITI Committees

The ITI conducts and supports projects in research, development and education through its Committees:

- Research
- Education
- Scholarship
- University Programs
- Section & Membership

» ITI Fellowship

ITI Fellows are actively involved with furthering the goals and principles of the ITI. They demonstrate a high level of activity in the areas of leadership, research, education or development.

» ITI Membership

ITI Membership is open to all professionals in implant dentistry who wish to participate in the ITI and abide by its principles.

» ITI Sections

The ITI has a constantly growing number of national Sections worldwide, where Fellows and Members come together to exchange knowledge and spread the ITI philosophy.

Membership

Membership
Join the ITI today and become part of a growing network of experts.

The ITI is a unique academic organization and a scientific network of dedicated professionals in implant dentistry worldwide.

Qualifications and application process for ITI Members

Membership is open to all professionals in implant dentistry who wish to participate in the ITI and abide by its principles. ITI membership is based on professional qualifications. Dentists, physicians, PhD scientists, certified dental technicians, registered dental hygienists and registered professionals working in the field are all welcome to apply. Membership, while registered internationally with the ITI Center in Basel, is primarily based on participation in local or regional ITI activities such as Study Clubs, Courses, National Section Meetings and Congresses organized by the ITI Sections.

Membership dues

The annual membership fee for ITI Members as of 2011 is CHF 300 (Swiss Francs). 10% or 15% discounts are available for a two or three year's membership.

Post graduate students benefit from a reduced one-year membership fee of CHF 150. A written confirmation is to be provided to the ITI Center. This written confirmation, issued by the university or education provider, must include:

- Name of post-graduate student
- Field of study
- Anticipated duration of study (start date and end date)

Applicants will be notified and admitted to membership upon payment of dues for the year of acceptance as an ITI Member.

Click here to register for an ITI Membership

Membership benefits

The ITI provides its membership with a wealth of benefits to enhance professional activities:

- a copy of the latest volume of the ITI Treatment Guide every year (available in eight languages*)
- a subscription to the ITI journal Forum Implantologicum (available in eight languages*)
- significantly reduced entry fees to international and national ITI congresses and educational events
- access to the online portal ITInet (pdf), a unique global platform for worldwide networking and exchange with continuously updated content and interactive services
- regular literature updates every two months

⚙ SAC Tool

The SAC Assessment Tool reflects the normative guidelines developed by the ITI at a Consensus Conference in 2007 for various types of restorative and surgical cases based on a classification system referred to as SAC (Straightforward, Advanced, Complex). The results of the conference proceedings were then published in 2009 in a book entitled "The SAC Classification in Implant Dentistry". The SAC Assessment Tool distills the content of the book in an easy-to-use process that takes you through each step necessary to identify the degree of complexity and potential risk involved in individual cases.

This exclusive ITInet version of the SAC Assessment Tool for ITI Fellows and Members contains a PDF generator and allows you to enrich the assessment with patient-specific information. To create a PDF, click on "Generate PDF" at the top of the assessment output screen.

Standard (960x700) | High (1150x840)

(requires Flash player; depending on your connection speed the application may take a while to load)
